

Guatemala Mission Trip Overview

July 7-14, 2016

Primary Contact: Todd Bevill, 678-765-7732; TLBevill@charter.net

Accommodations: Seteca Seminary – VERY safe, nice, and reasonable. Website is www.seteca.edu

Itinerary to Include:

- Minor construction/repairs
- Evangelism in communities and public schools
- Ceramic wood stove installations
- Visits to “Rayitos del Sol” preschool and VBS type activities. This is a Christian School run by Iglesia El Camino Church through funding provided by Ivy Creek and Lakewood Baptist Churches
- Potential visit to an orphanage
- Ministry in the dump
- Free-time to include sight-seeing at the artisans market in Antigua (www.aroundantigua.com)

Training/Team Building Meetings

Training meetings and Bible Studies will be scheduled in the near future. These meetings will cover raising financial support, cultural and language introduction, packing tips, and other logistics. Most importantly, these meetings provide the opportunity for the team to get to know each other better and to make sure we’re all one in spirit and in purpose

Preliminary Expense Estimates

This could vary by as much as $200 either way, depending upon the number of people on the team. Expenses can be paid through a combination of personal funds, financial sponsors, personal fundraising, and/or support from the Ivy Creek Missions Team. We have historically seen and we continue to believe that whom God has join Him in this work, God will enable, financially and otherwise. Raising financial support training will be covered in our first team meeting.

Flight:	$ 650-850
Insurance:	$ 45
Lodging:	$ 125
Meals:	$ 130
Transportation:	$ 150
Translators/Supply Expenses:	$200
Total:	$1,300-1,500

Commitment to be on the team requires all forms and a $100 deposit to be turned in by the deadline date to Wylene Mosely at 770-932-8453 or office@icbcga.org. Your commitment signifies that you agree to reimburse Ivy Creek for the cost of the plane fare, should you change your mind or not be able to use your ticket for any reason. Anyone delaying their commitment until after the sign-up deadline will run the risk of paying current market price for flights and/or traveling separately from the group.